

SCALPED WITH CLUBS.

THIRTY-FIVE POLICEMEN'S BATONS USED TO SUBDUCE A STRIKER.

Michael Koback Literally Jellified by Pummeling—Two Others Who Were in the Wreck—Doomed Men—Drilling for Another Outbreak—Notes.

CLEVELAND, O., July 18.—Michael Koback was the most fierce of the 1,500 strikers who made the charge on the police at the plate mills. He was armed with a knotty club, and with a cry of rage he bounded toward Policeman Mannahan and felled him with a blow. The police leaped over Mannahan's body and rained blows upon Koback's head until his scalp was almost torn off. Then it was that the thirty-five big police clubs were splintered. Koback is in a very precarious condition.

When Joseph Pollock and J. Molteska, two of the worst wounded men, were laid out and appeared with bandages among their friends, the strikers set up a howl of rage and vowed vengeance. President Cushman of the rolling mill is openly threatened with violence. The police are also doomed, the angry strikers say, and Editor Rosenbloom of the Plaindealer, who arrested one of the strikers in his official capacity as special policeman, received notification from the strikers that he is doomed.

Those who maintained that the strike has been exaggerated by the newspaper changed their tune when positive evidence was adduced showing that the strikers have been quietly laying arms and ammunition in small quantities and drilling under cover of night in the peach orchard.

Police Sgt. Thomson ran upon a squad of the strikers going through their tactics two nights ago, and some of the firemen located near the remainder of the rioters furnished evidence with respect to their getting ammunition. Two railroads have arranged to furnish cars at a moment's notice for the transportation of troops from the city to Newburg, six miles away. All is quiet, as far as can be learned, although the strikers allow no outsiders at most of their executive sessions, and little can be learned of their intentions.

Pointing a Notice.

CLEVELAND, O., July 18.—The Cleveland Rolling Mill company have submitted the following to the police commissioners:

"To the Board of Police Commissioners: 'GENTLEMEN—We have decided to post at our works the following notice: 'As some of the employees of our company decline to resume work through fear of being assaulted, it has been decided by the board of directors to keep the entire works closed until such time as the employees desire to return peacefully to work in all their several departments. It is our desire to continue shipment of material now on hand, and for the personnel performance of this we would request that detail a sufficient force to amply protect the men thus employed in shipping and for the protection of our plant.'

"W. W. CRISWORTH, President."

The Poles in the Fourteenth ward drilled, and it is feared that they are organizing for another raid. The wounded strikers are doing nicely, although one or two of them are still hovering between life and death. There was no further disturbance of any kind.

In Michigan.

BAY CITY, July 18.—All the works continue running. Bardell & Barker's mill black has started at the same pay and terms as before the strike. They say they will be ready to start one new in the mill, providing enough men are on hand. If not, they will remain closed for the next fifty days.

The militia made a parade and the streets were lined with people. The best feeling prevails between the citizens and the soldiers. The McLean mill attempted to cut as much lumber in ten hours as formerly in eleven, but the contractor not being satisfied with the work turned out, and the mill must cut lumber according to agreement or stop cutting his logs.

In Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, July 18.—The Bay View ship plate mill, employing one hundred men, has started up. Superintendent Parkes, who has been in Milwaukee in connection with the eastern iron workers, will return soon. A consultation between the managers and workmen will be held soon. All mill hands are likely to start. The president of the Amalgamated Association is expected to arrive in the city very soon.

HARSH LANGUAGE.

"You D-d Villains! Why Will You Not Fight? You Mean Skunk!"

St. LOUIS, July 18.—Samuel C. Chubb, president of the Wagon Ferry company, who has been in the Wagon Ferry company, was arrested on a warrant sworn out by H. C. Creveling, which charges Chubb with threatening to kill him. Creveling says Chubb used the following language to him:

"You d-d villain, why will you not fight? You mean skunk, you are the meanest scoundrel I ever saw, and ought to be quieted! Why will you not rouse up and become a man, you yellow dog! Will you come to my office and give me a chance to kill you, you nasty scoundrel?"

Mr. Chubb was taken before Justice O'Connell, and the case will come up for trial July 21. The trouble between Messrs. Chubb and Creveling arose from Mr. Chubb's management of the affairs of the Wagon Ferry company, in which Mr. Creveling is a large stockholder. At the time that the Wagon Ferry company leased the Wagon Ferry company's ferry, the Illinois & St. Louis Railroad and the Venice & Caroulet Belt Railway, Mr. Creveling entered a strenuous protest, claiming that the lease was invalid and that it was wholly in the interests of Mr. Chubb himself.

According to the statement of Mr. Creveling, Mr. Chubb purchased a large amount of the stock of the Illinois & St. Louis Railroad company, which Mr. Creveling says is a bankrupt concern, and he then brought about the lease to the Wagon Ferry company with the purpose, according to Mr. Creveling, of enhancing the value of the Illinois & St. Louis stock he had purchased. Chubb is one of the wealthiest men in the city.

Railroad Accident.

ELIZABETH, N. J., July 18.—An engine attached to a freight train plunged into the open draw bridge over the Rahway river. Jacob Cole, the engineer, was buried in the ruins of the wrecked locomotive, and had one leg cut off and otherwise fearfully injured. Fireman Johnson, who was buried into the water, but crawled out badly hurt.
